YOUNG BUILDING BAR

An application was submitted to the Executive Council by Treasurer Kellogg from the Alexander Young Building Company for liquor licenses for the hotel of that corporation. A license is wanted for a bar to be located in the basement, with permission added to dispense liquors at a buffet in the hotel proper.

The matter was held for further consideration. Governor Dole said after the meeting that the application presented a somewhat difficult question. While the bar in the basement would be a common saloon and the building was outside of the established saloon limits, the law made an exception of bars in hotels outside of the limits.

He had been given to understand that the liquor interests were having a bill prepared for submission to the Legislature which would do away with saloon limits altogether. To such a proposition he was very much opposed, as a saloon at the best was a nuisance in the midst of or near residences.

Macfarlane & Co. applied for a transfer of their liquor dealers' license from Kaahumani street to the Waterhouse

BONDS NOW PAYABLE

At the Cabinet council this forenoon Treasurer Kepolka, as committee of one appointed at last meeting, reported on the matter of official bonds. He submitted a list of public accountants with the amounts they had received, respectively, during the year.

The matter was referred back to the Treasurer for a report of the maximum funds on hand, in each case, at any one time as a basis for fixing the amounts of bonds.

Treasurer Kepolka was authorized to pay all Territorial bonds now due, in the order of their numbers, out of funds on hand from sales of Government lands, etc.

Judge De Bolt Charges GRAND JURY On Epidemic of Crime

Judge De Bolt delivered a long charge to the grand jury at the opening of the February term of the First Circuit Court this morning. It consists chiefly of an exposition of the functions and powers of a grand jury. Its introduction contains the following partly electric passage:

"The grand jury is an institution that had its origin in the early periods of the common law of England. It has always been highly esteemed and venerated in England and in the United States, as it has been considered as a safeguard of the liberties of the people against the encroachments and oppressions of political power, and against unfounded accusations prompted by private malice, personal animosity, or other improper motives. In contemplation of law grand juries are composed of the best and most intelligent citizens of the community—men strictly impartial and free from all objections, and having permanent interests in the property, prosperity and general welfare of the country, and thus interested in securing justice and preserving the peace, good order and well-being of society."

Definitions of crime and instructions as to the grand jury's procedure are then given by the court at length. While a grand jury was not controlled by technical rules of evidence, but they should receive and consider none but legal evidence, to the exclusion of mere reports, rumors, suspicions and hearsay evidence. Legal evidence consists in original writings, or proved copies thereof, and facts testified to by some person who has personal knowledge of them. While it required the concurrence of but twelve of their number to make a finding, the grand jury must always be constituted of not less than thirteen grand jurors. The Attorney General would attend their investigations and might direct them to subjects of investigation, but when they came to deliberate on any question nobody could be present but themselves.

After going over all such familiar ground, Judge De Bolt proceeded to say:

"Regarding the examination into the condition and affairs of the various public offices and institutions within this judicial circuit, unless, for special reasons brought to your attention, it is not strictly your duty to inquire into their management. And the court, so far as it is advised at this time, has nothing in particular to call your attention to in this behalf. But your attention is particularly called to the frequent and numerous robberies, burglaries, thefts and murderous assaults with knives, pistols and other deadly weapons, which have been committed in Honolulu recently. In these matters, gentlemen of the grand jury, it will be your duty to seek to bring every such law-breaker to justice. I can assure you in this behalf of the hearty co-operation and assistance of the Department of the Attorney General and of the High Sheriff, as well as that of every good citizen. It should go forth to the world that Honolulu is a most

MAUI POLITICIANS AND CAPITAL CITY

Rival Claims of Wailuku As Against Lahaina.

LEGISLATORS HAVE READ COUNTY BILL

Wailuku, Jan. 31.—Hons. Samuel E. Kalama and S. Kellinui, with their families, leave for Honolulu per S. S. Claudine this evening, to attend the caucuses of the Republican Territorial Central Committee for a discussion of the County bill.

Copies of the bill, in pamphlet form, were received by a few on Maui this week, but the subscribers of the Bulletin were very much elated when they saw the whole bill in that paper.

No public meetings have yet been held in Wailuku, but one will soon be called, at which time all political parties will be requested by the Republican leaders to meet in convention and suggest ideas. The friends of several of the leading politicians on Maui are already out canvassing for positions for their respective candidates.

While the majority of electors on Maui favor Wailuku as the county seat yet there are some even in Wailuku who for reasons they themselves cannot reasonably explain, favor Lahaina. On the whole, however, it is safe to say that more than 80 per cent of the electors are in favor of Wailuku as being the only town on Maui best suited by nature for the county seat.

To explain the unsurpassed advantages of Wailuku over Lahaina would fill volumes, while those who favor the latter place do so from selfish motives without regard to the conveniences of the community at large.

It is understood, on good authority, that Messrs. P. N. Kahokuoluna and G. W. Keawehaku, two brilliant legal lights of the Lahaina District Court, are at present busily engaged framing several bills to be presented at the coming Legislature. These gentlemen, of course, have read the new draft of the County bill, and, instead of making suggestions, they prefer to draw up

THE CIVIL CALENDAR

Following is the trial jury for the civil calendar before Judge Robinson. The jurors being excused until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning: Thomas E. Wall, Ulysses H. ### Reduction In Price Of Drinks To Be Tonight

INITIATIVE OF HOTEL NOT TO BE FOLLOWED

C. J. MCCARTHY OF CRITERION EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS—E. S. CUNHA WILL MAKE NO CHANGE.

Fifteen cents, or two for a quarter, is the latest at the Hawaiian Hotel bar. In other words, anyone buying a drink over the bar can procure it for fifteen cents and if there is a friend along it will only cost a quarter of a dollar. This reduction in the price of drinks has been in contemplation for some time, but was not put into effect until today, when alcoholic stimulants were served to the guests at the Hawaiian Hotel and the Annex at Waikiki at the prices mentioned. When Manager Willis of the hotel was seen by a Bulletin reporter and asked why he instituted the change, he said:

"Well, it seems to me that Honolulu is enough of an American town at the present time to warrant the reduction. We began today and intend to charge a lower price for drinks from now on. The duty was taken off liquor on the annexation of these islands to the United States and yet the price of drinks were not lowered at all. Liquor comes into the country almost as cheaply as it is placed on the market on the Mainland. Of course, there is a slight difference due to freight charges."

"I believe the reduction of the price charged over the bar will be beneficial to the tourist trade, and that, of course, we are all seeking to aid in every way possible. A man from the Mainland who comes into this American Territory and who has been in the habit of paying the prevailing price on the other side of the water, looks upon the charge of twenty-five cents a drink as a tax on good nature, and it is just such little things as these that keep the tourists from our shores."

"I will venture to say that the prices at the hotels here for roomers is cheaper than those charged at summer and winter resorts on the Mainland. As a matter of fact, they should be higher, for the prices of provisions are much higher. Now the price of drinks has been out of all proportion, and we have made a move to put things on a more sensible basis."

"It is our intention to import the very best liquors on the market into the country in bulk. In this way, we will not have to pay for labels, bottles, corks and other little items that run up the expenses which liquor dealers have been in the habit of paying from the time the trade was first started."

There is to be a meeting tomorrow morning at about 8 o'clock of the retail liquor dealers of the city, at which time the matter of the reduction of the price of drinks on the part of the Hawaiian Hotel will be discussed.

PRATT'S ORDERS MAKES THE GOVERNOR BALK

Governor Dole this morning received a cablegram from Special Agent Joseph G. Pratt. It contains directions involving an amount of labor on the part of the Governor which he positively declines to perform. The message reads:

"Washington, Feb. 2.—Send Secretary Treasury list judgments showing individual awards, amounts paid and unpaid thereon, certifying same are genuine, rendered pursuant act legislative assembly requesting action."

"PRATT."

On being asked if the advices comprised in the dispatch would lead to any action toward hastening the payment of the fire claims, the Governor answered:

"The law requires me to certify the claims. I have done so once and shall not do so again. There are sixty-seven hundred of them."

"The only thing to be done now is to await instructions from the Secretary of the Interior."

NEW LEGISLATORS COME

There has not been a very liberal response to the invitation sent out by the Republican Central Committee to the senators and representatives on the other islands, probably on account of the very bad weather that has been prevailing for a couple of weeks past. It is likely that there will be a large number of the legislators here by the steamers of Saturday and Sunday next.

The only men who arrived in the steamers of Saturday and Sunday last were the following: Representatives Charles Pallas of Kohala, Wright of Kau, and Kellinui and Kalama of Maui.

The morning paper says something about a meeting of the Central Committee tonight. As a matter of fact there is to be no meeting; neither was one thought of.

HOTEL REDUCES PRICES

Beginning today the Hawaiian Hotel will reduce the price of drinks from 25c to 15c or two for 25c. This move has been given due consideration and it is believed the result will be advantageous to the city, regarding the tourist travel.

Jno. W. Cathart has opened an office in the Stangenwald building. See ad under New Today.
